Visit Visonic at booth #4123

Bloomfield, CT – Feb 28, 2010– Visonic Ltd., a leading developer and manufacturer of home security and safety systems and components, is participating in the ISC West show in Las Vegas, March 24-26 (booth #4123). Visonic will unveil at the show its new PowerMax[®]Express Surveillance QuickFit Kit and will also present the full range of Visonic solutions, including the PowerMax[®] family of wireless security systems, the Amber emergency personal response system; and the TOWER[®] family of robust sensors.

During ISC West, Visonic will educate security professionals on how adding IP-based security services to their offering can help promote business growth in an ever-competitive marketplace. The new PowerMax[®]Express Surveillance QuickFit Kit is designed especially for system integrators and central monitoring stations interested in broadband IP solutions for event notifications and video alarm verification. It provides a groundbreaking concept that sets new standards in terms of quick installation and ease-of-use by delivering a wireless, pre-enrolled broadband-based security and surveillance system-in-a-box that requires zero programming and installs in minutes.
